

VOCABULARY TEST #1

Soteriology

Define all ten terms.

1. The _____ _____ refers to the logical order in which the process of salvation takes place.
2. _____ _____ is the belief that God predestined people for salvation before the beginning of time. God's election is not conditioned by anything in man, good or evil, foreseen or present, but upon God's sovereign choice.
3. _____ _____ is the belief that God's election is conditional, being based on his foreknowledge. God looks ahead into the future, sees who will make a free-will decision to place their faith in him, and then elects to save them. Or as contemporary Arminians would put it, God elects Christ and all who are found in him.
4. The belief that God's unconditional sovereign election and human responsibility are both realities taught in Scripture that finite minds cannot comprehend and must be held in tension is called _____.
5. _____ _____ is the belief that God predestines the elect to eternal life, and the rest are predestined to hell. God does this by actively hardening their hearts and preparing them for unbelief.
6. The _____ _____ Theory of the Atonement is the belief that by virtue of Adam's sin, all humanity was sold into bondage to Satan who had "legal" rights to them. Christ, by his death, made a payment to Satan, buying them back and making salvation possible.
7. The _____ _____ Theory of the Atonement is the belief that Christ came to show people how to live so that they would turn to him in love. His death was not required and has no atoning value, but only serves as a moral example for people to follow.
8. The _____ _____ View of the Atonement is the belief that the atonement is made on the Cross when Christ vicariously bore the exact penalty of his people, thereby placating the wrath of God and satisfying his righteousness.
9. _____ is the act whereby God's righteous wrath is satisfied by the atonement of Christ.
10. What term refers to the transferal of the sin of man to Christ while He was on the Cross?
